

ASCA 2019 Annual Conference Scholarships

Graduate Assistantship

The Presidential and Bracewell Conference Graduate Assistantships have been developed to foster leadership opportunities within the Association for Student Conduct Administration. The Graduate Assistants (GA's) will have opportunities to observe and interact with ASCA leadership, to experience the organization's inner workings – either through the Board of Directors or the Conference Planning Team, and to gain access to mentors and a professional network within the Association. In exchange for providing assistance under the direction of the ASCA President or the Conference Chair, the Graduate Assistants will receive complimentary lodging at the conference site hotel (with a roommate), up to $125 reimbursed for meals, and a waiver of the conference registration fee.

ASCA Presidential Graduate Assistantship

The ASCA Presidential Graduate Assistantship provides a unique opportunity to gain insight into the Board of Directors' meetings, including the opportunity to interact directly with them. The main time commitment includes attending the Board of Director Meetings during the days prior to the annual conference, and providing clerical and administrative support as needed. Additional responsibilities may arise during the conference, such as staffing tables or assisting board members as needed. Main responsibilities include:

- Be in attendance at the ASCA Winter Board Meeting and 2019 Annual Conference from February 2-10, 2019.
- Shadow ASCA President throughout conference and assist as needed.
- Assist President and/or President-Elect in preparing for in-coming Board of Directors meeting.
- Provide logistical and clerical support to ASCA leadership.
- Assist with planning (if necessary) and attend luncheon given by president for the past presidents.
- Provide logistical assistance at the Annual Business Meeting.
- Make a presentation to the Board of Directors on a topic chosen by the President that is relevant to the Association and the field of student conduct.
- Develop a written summary of the conference experience including suggested changes to be made for future conferences. The summary should be received within thirty (30) days of the end of the conference. The summary may be submitted informally through email.

ASCA Bracewell Conference Graduate Assistantship

The ASCA Bracewell Conference Graduate Assistantship provides the unique opportunity of experiencing the detailed behind-the-scenes coordination of a large-scale conference. This involves assisting the core conference committee with a variety of aspects of conference logistical planning and implementation. Main responsibilities include:

- Be in attendance at the 2019 Annual Conference from February 2-10, 2019.
- Attend the pre-conference logistics meeting on Sunday, February 3.
- Shadow the Conference Chair, Assistant Conference Chair, and other members of the conference planning team and assist as needed.
- Assist the core conference planning team with conference logistics as needed or directed.

- Staff the registration table, assist with event set up, and provide logistical support throughout the conference.
- Problem-solve as appropriate and represent the conference committee positively.
- Actively engage in the conference and report concerns and observations to the conference planning committee.
- Develop a written summary of the conference experience including suggested changes to be made for future conferences. The summary should be received within thirty (30) days of the end of the conference. The summary may be submitted informally through email.
