THE HIDDEN COST OF CARING: VICARIOUS TRAUMA IN STUDENT CONDUCT

Presenters: Lacey Craven, Creighton University

Student conduct professionals are routinely exposed to students' traumatic experiences, placing them at risk for vicarious trauma. This interactive session explores how organizational systems influence that risk and shares emerging research from a doctoral study. Participants will gain practical, evidence-based strategies to recognize warning signs, support colleagues, and implement trauma-informed practices that strengthen staff well-being and organizational resilience.
